Salisbury Scribbles.

When sowing is about over, and that sown early looks fine.

The A. O. U. W. lodge will celebrate the 32nd anniversary of the order October 27.

Mrs. Valet Parks and family have again taken up their residence in our midst, to the delight of all.

Mrs. A. Lobban is still alive, but her death is expected at any time she has cancer of the stomach.

Mrs. Sarah Dillard, col., had to suspend her school at Forest Green on account of the small-pox scare.

Rev. Frank Miller of Elgin, Ill., the singing evangelist, is conducting an interesting meeting at the C. P. church.

Some of our sidewalks are so bad that walking over them could almost be called an attempt to commit suicide.

Rev. P. M. Sears dropped in this week and informed us that Prof. Hall's school at the Hill is progressing nicely.

The Daily News is out and is a lively sheet. Horace Philpott has lots of vim in him and is determined to make it go.

A. T. Dumm will leave for Jefferson City Saturday, where he will resume his duties as assistant supreme court reporter.

W. S. Gallemore and family of near Fayette visited friends here this week. Will is anxious to get back into the printing harness.

W. R. Sweeney is confined to his bed with some nervous trouble that is hard to understand. We hope he will soon recover.

Clark McCurry contributed $5 to the city's wealth since our last. Clark is hard to tame, but Mayor Patterson is equal to the emergency.

Peter Smith of the capital attended the Republican speaking here Tuesday night and knowingly winked at Democrats when the speaker's statements were unusually wild.

Eld. White was unable to fill his appointment last Sunday on account of sickness. He is better now and will attend the Christian church convention at Kansas City this week.

I. M. Hickerson has moved to his property in the Heryford addition and is now one of us. We regret to learn that a married daughter, who lives with him, is in a poor state of health.

The many friends of J. F. Pratt will be glad to learn that he will soon be with us again, having purchased the insurance and real estate business of F. H. Wilhite, and also his residence property.

Word reached here last Saturday that several cases of small-pox had developed at Forest Green, and further advices confirmed the rumor. Our city has quarantined against the place and will take all proper steps to keep the disease from reaching here.

Col. Ludwig of St. Louis, a Republican spell-binder, spoke to a few of the faithful at the old City hall Tuesday night. To a Democrat his remarks were amusing, but he evidently took himself seriously. His visit here will not change the situation.

The residence property of Mrs. John West, in Baker's addition, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night about 9 o'clock. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been a defective flue. The household goods were saved. The building was insured in the Home of New York.

Newhall Nuggets.

Miss Lena Schwarz will depart this week for Illinois.

Peter Ewald was the guest of Henry Gladbach Sunday.

Will Smith was in Sumner Sunday calling on his best girl.

Charley says, there will be another Campbell going pretty soon.

The infant of John Vater was christened at St. Joseph's church Sunday.

Misses Hanna and Teresa Gladbach and several more went fishing Saturday at the cut-off. All had a good time but few fish were caught.

Vincent Gladbach presented two kittens to his best girl last Wednesday.

Misses Dora and Maggie Billips were the guests of Miss Alice Smith Sunday.

Pete Ewald had Miss Tatsch were out riding on the buckster wagon Wednesday evening.

Peter Ewald arrived home Tuesday from St. Louis where he went to purchase his fall goods.

A magic lantern show was given at Newhall Monday night which proved to be very instructive and amusing.

The new priest, who was selected for St. Joseph's church, arrived Sunday and preached his first sermon, which was appreciated by all the congregation.

A Sunday school has been organized once more at Siloam and will continue until Christmas. All the young folks should come out and make it a success.

Misses Sophia and Ella Vater, Ida Grubbs and Mrs. Will Grubbs went to Brookfield Saturday to do some shopping, and on their return were caught in the storm.

Misses Sophia Vater, Ottilie Smith, Teresa and Hanna Gladbach and Messrs. Vincent Gladbach, Nagel and Peter Ewald took tea with Peter Gladbach Sunday evening.

Sumner Squibs.

Harvey Smith pulled out for Kansas City Tuesday evening.

Wm. B. Perkins returned from Kansas City Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stant Robinson returned from St. Louis Sunday.

Wm. Adcox and family moved, with their household effects, to Chillicothe Monday.

Wm. C. Waugh has nearly completed the addition to Mrs. Cox's residence in the southeast part of town.

There will be political speaking here Friday by the Hon. L. N. Dempsey of Keytesville in the evening and by Hon. J. H. Whitecotton of Monroe county in the afternoon.

Daniel Higgins, with his wife and seven children, passed through here Saturday in two covered wagons on their way from Caldwell to Monticau county, where Mr. Higgins has purchased 80 acres of land.

There were the regular services at the M. E. church Sunday morning. The sermon was good what there was of it, but it was too short, for both preacher and congregation were seriously inconvenienced by the low temperature, the stoves not being yet in their places.

A singing school was commenced here last Thursday at the M. E. church, and will continue a few weeks. The school has secured the services of Prof. Marvin Wilson of Ottumwa, Iowa, who has also a large class at Prairie Mound. We would recommend these meetings as an improving place for a right minded young man to bring his sister, and should he have none available of his own it would be perfectly permissible to escort somebody else's sister.

Dalton Dots.

Henry Goll was in town Tuesday

Ben Cooper of Cazzell was here Monday.

Gen. E. W. Price was over to this burg Tuesday on business.

Jos. Miles and wife attended the carnival at Kansas City last week.

We have been informed that G. W. Hocker has sold his corn for 30 cents a bushel in the field.

W. H. Burns and Julius Sleyster visited the family of Chas. Friesz, west of town, last Monday.

Charles Campbell of Iowa, who bought G. W. Hocker's farm, moved his family down last Friday.

Mrs. Mary Janson of Braden, Ia., came in Thursday to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Stender.

Philip Gordon, Marion Wright and James Davis went to Moberly last Saturday to hear Flory speak, but got there too late.

We see some of the Republican papers are putting Missouri in the doubtful column. We suppose they mean that it is doubtful about their carrying anything in Missouri.

W. H. Burns and Sleyster brothers, who have been down through the southeast part of the state, came home last Friday and report that part of the Missouri as being pretty rough they are now satisfied that there is and no place like old Chariton.

There was a musicale at Fred Burns' last Monday night, the music being furnished by G. S. Brooks on the banjo and C. F. and Elmer Cox on the violin. Among those in attendance were G. S. Brooks and wife, Charles Cox and wife, Elmer Cox and wife and Mrs. Lillie Worsham.

Musselfork Memoirs.

ville Wednesday, October 10, a son.

Jos. Lauhoff of Indian Grove and Miss Mary Reichart of Brunswick are to be married at the former place next Monday.

Will Richards, a son of D. M. Richards of five miles west of Keytesville, was thrown from a race horse belonging to John Dorrance last Sunday afternoon and had one of his legs broken just above his shootop. The fracture was reduced by Drs. A. W. Zillman of Indian Grove and B. Hughes of Keytesville.

Rev. I. M. Turnage, the pastor, is conducting a series of meetings at New Hope Baptist church, six miles southeast of Keytesville. Some excellent sermons are being delivered, the attendance is large and the interest growing. The COURIER hopes that a good meeting may result and that many souls may be brought to Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bacon returned to Keytesville last Saturday from their bridal tour to Quincy, Ill., and remained until Tuesday visiting Mrs. Bacon's parents, Judge and Mrs. J. L. Stacy. After visiting relatives at Bevier and Callao, Macon county, until Saturday they will depart for Lubbock, Tex., near which place Mr. Bacon owns a sheep ranch. The COURIER hopes for them much success and unbounded happiness in their new home.

Sheriff J. R. Dempsey received a telegram Wednesday night from the secretary of the state board of health, notifying him to place Forest Green under quarantine, and to have all persons, who had been exposed to the small-pox in that community, vaccinated. Mr. Dempsey left yesterday morning to perform the disagreeable duty imposed upon him. It is to be hoped that prompt action will prevent a further spread of the dread contagion. There are said to be something like 15 cases in Forest Green and vicinity, the larger portion of which are negroes.

So far the apple market has been rather dull and what apples have been sold has been at low figures. The largest sale, as yet, was the Rice orchard, sold by Thos. Shaughnessy to Charles Art for $250. This is regarded as a good price. Mr. Art bought Dr. Drace's winter apples at 80 cents per barrel, gathered. A Brunswick dealer bought Mrs. Minor's winter apples at 70 cents per barrel on the tree, while last year she sold at double that price piled in the orchard. Dealers seem a little shy of apples this year unless they can purchase them at very low prices. Buyers from a distance have offered $1 per barrel, delivered on the cars, but they only want first-class apples. Dealers were badly off in their estimate of the apple crop of last year; they thought the crop was very light and bought at high figures, and then found there were a great many more apples than they calculated. Then, too, the apples rotted badly, causing a great loss.
